Will the Force Bill Be Left to Die a Slow Death?

Republican Senators Do Not Show Much Interest In It.

ered at Once, But His Argument Is of No Avail - Enough Appropriated to Publish Twenty-Eight Volumes of Was Records This Year-Other Notes.

SENATOR HOAR HUMILIATED. He Valuly Pleads for the Immediate Con sideration of the Force Hill. NEW YORK, July 81 .- The Herald's sideration of the Force Hill.

New York, July 81.—The Heraid's Washington correspondent says:

Senator Hear wept tears of humiliation Monday night. He pleaded in vain for the immediate consideration of the force bill, and used all his powers of argument and pathos to bring his colleagues in the Republican senatorial caucus to his way of thinking. He said many changes had been made in the bill and more would be made to satisfy conservative senators. The hateful domiriliary clause, the partisan jury commission clause, the purial bayonet clause would all be stricken out if only the senate would pass something bearing the name of an election bill and carrying the Federal power into the local affairs of the southern people.

But the election bill was kicked from pillar to post by the friends of other measures. They treated the election bill as an entirely subsidiary measure. The members of the finance committee wanted the tariff bill debated until it was passed, the friends of the river and harlest bill asked to have that considered, the advocates of a reorganization of the United States courts urged that the subject be put on the list, and some of the western men wanted the land forfeiture bill taken up.

The cancus was held to determine the order of business, and it was finally decided that the tariff and the appropriation bills shall have the right of way. Senator Aldrich will move Tuesday that the senate meet daily at 10 o'clock for the purpose of considering the tariff bill. This is the nearest the senate will come to a change of rules.

There was only about twenty-five of the forty-seven Republican sen stors present, and some of the strongest opponents of the Republicans to Mr. Lodge's deformed pot and their disposition to let it die the death of inanimation. It was admitted Monday night that the tariff and the appropriation bills would take five weeks. Then possibly another cancus will be called to decide whether the force bill shall be taken up or some other pet measure of a Republican sention, it will be to

ROLL-CALL BY ELECTRICITY.

An Invention to Save Time in the House of Representatives.
Washington, July 31.—The house committee on rules gave a hearing toventor, who wants to supply the house with an electrical apparatus for record-with an electrical apparatus for recording the votes of members.

Mr. into explained his invention carefully to this committee, claiming that by its use a vote of the house could be taken in five minutes. He claimed that by the adoption and use of this invention a great deal of time might be saved that is now lost in the slow and tedions operation of calling the roll. Thus far during the session the roll has been cated 500 times, occupying at least half an hour for each call, or thirty average working legislative days of five hours each. Five-sixths of this time, or twenty-five days, Mr. Enos claimed, might have been saved had his invention been in use. He estimated the cost of putting his system in operation in the incuse at about $400,000, and asked a small apprepriation to construct the working model with which to demonstrate the practical utility of the system. The committee has taken the matter under consideration.

MONEY FOR THE WAR RECORDS.

MONEY FOR THE WAR RECORDS. Enough Appropriated to Finish Twenty-

WASHINGTON, July 81 the house Monday afternoon, the sends of an early completion of the rebellion records won a very gratifying and very substan-tial victory. The sundry civil appropri-ation bill originally passed by the house contained an item of $150,000 for this purpose; afterward upon an estimate of the war department the senate increased this sum to $235,000, and the appropria-tions committee of the house refused to

When the item was reached in com-mittee of the whole Gen. Grosvenor mittee of the whole Gen. Grosvenor made a metion to concur with the senate, and after some discussion withdrew the motion, but Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, at once renewed it. A very spirited dobate ensued, participated in by Oen. Cutcheon, Gen. Grosvenor, Mr. Breckluridge, of Kentucky, and Mr. Dockery for the increase, and Mr. Cannon, charman of the committee on appropriations, on the other side. It was urged by those favoring the increase that the publication ought to be made and completed during the lifetime of the men who participated in the war. The vote was taken by tellers, and resulted in a decisive victory for the increased sum. Chairman Cannon is altogether friendly to the war record publication, but he thought the sum given by the house enough. This is true as to the work which can be done during the fiscal year, but under the energetic mauagement of Maj. Davis eleven books were ready for the printer when the fiscal year began. The senate added $42,000 to provide for the immediate issue of these volumes. Mr. Dockery and Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, rallied nearly the entire Democratic side, and Gen. Grosvenor, Cutcheon and J. D. Taylor the other side, and the result was as stated.

Mr. Breckinridge paid a high tribute, and a just one, to the valuable work of the late Col. Scott, and to the most efficient work of Maj. Davis.

The sum now provided will be sufficient for the publication of twenty-sight becks of the records during this fiscal year.
